CANADIANS WIN HONORS FOR SERVICE

Long List of Soldiers Decorated for Bravery and Good Work.

LIEUT. B. O. HOOPER

And His Party of the 19th,
Who Visited Enemy
Trenches, Named.

London, March 15.—The London Gazette announces the following additional decorations for Canadians: DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER.

Capt. Andrew Jones, 6th Canadian Brigade, conspicuous good service and ability as staff captain and intelligence. Capt. Jones organized on two occasions enterprises against enemy trenches with marked success. His enterprise and careful training resulted in most excellent work by scouts.

Capt. Duncan MacIntyre, 25th, conspicuous gallantry in leading an assaulting party after having in a personal reconnaissance reached enemy trenches. MacIntyre acted with great promptness and later showed great coolness and presence of mind in the selection of a suitable line of retreat.

Capt. Kenneth Taylor, 29th, conspicuous gallantry in leading a party in a raid on enemy trenches. Although wounded, Capt. Taylor jumped into a trench and disposed of several of the enemy's machine guns; most coolly negotiated taking back wounded.

MILITA. Capt. Bertram Hooper, 19th, conspicuous conduct in a reconnaissance with four men he remained in an enemy trench till he had made a careful reconnaissance of the adjacent trenches, gaining valuable information.

Lieut. Stanley Horroby Kent, 16th, conspicuous gallantry. He led a wire-cutting party for six hours, then headed an attacking party through the gas, and in spite of a heavy machine-gun and rifle fire and bombing by the enemy, inflicted severe loss. On two previous occasions he had during reconnaissance.

Capt. Andrew Jones, 6th Canadian Brigade, conspicuous good service and ability as staff captain and intelligence. Capt. Jones organized on two occasions enterprises against enemy trenches with marked success.

His enterprise and careful training resulted in most excellent work by scouts.

Capt. Duncan MacIntyre, 25th, conspicuous gallantry in leading an assaulting party after having in a personal reconnaissance reached enemy trenches.

MacIntyre acted with great promptness and later showed great coolness and presence of mind in the selection of a suitable line of retreat.

Capt. Kenneth Taylor, 29th, conspicuous gallantry in leading a party in a raid on enemy trenches. Although wounded, Capt. Taylor jumped into a trench and disposed of several of the enemy's machine guns.

Most coolly negotiated taking back wounded.

MILITA. Capt. Bertram Hooper, 19th, conspicuous conduct in a reconnaissance with four men he remained in an enemy trench till he had made a careful reconnaissance of the adjacent trenches, gaining valuable information.

Lieut. Stanley Horroby Kent, 16th, conspicuous gallantry. He led a wire-cutting party for six hours, then headed an attacking party through the gas, and in spite of a heavy machine-gun and rifle fire and bombing by the enemy, inflicted severe loss.

On two previous occasions he had during reconnaissance.

Lieut. Nigel O'Brien, 29th, conspicuous bravery during assault. He led a section with great gallantry, personally killing several of the enemy and taking other prisoners; also obtained important information of enemy trenches.

Lieut. Alfred Trimmer, 16th, conspicuous gallantry. Led bombers through enemy's wire and inflicted severe loss, and, although wounded, remained behind till the men got away.

Lieut. Lemuel Wolcott, 29th, conspicuous gallantry during assault under heavy fire several hours while cutting wire; then led assaulting party and, although wounded, remained till the men got away.

THE TIMES SPORTING PAGE

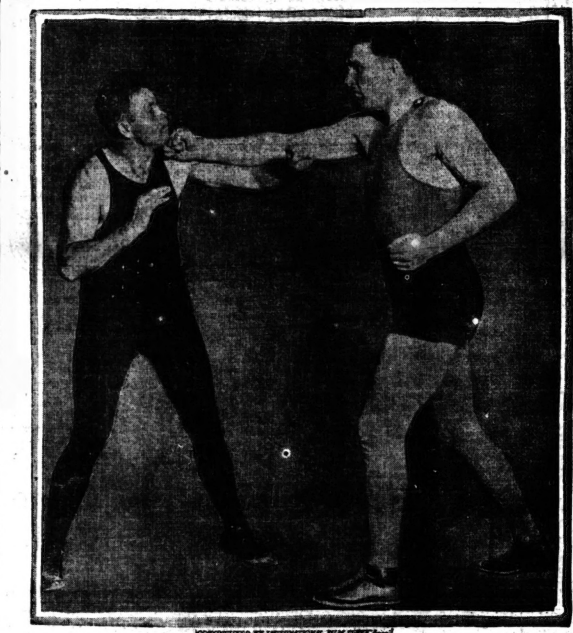

Monarchs Were Forced to Extend Themselves to Win From Scullers

Visitors Had Better of Play In First Half But Locals Pressed Hard In Last Half and Only Good Work of Farquhar Saved the Game—Hay and Marples Best For Visitors.

The Winnipeg Monarchs, four times winners of the famous Allan cup and today touted as the best in Canada to-day, came as close to being beaten here last evening as they will in any other Canadian city they play in, for had it not been for the grand work of Farquhar in the nets for the visitors they would have been defeated from the cup of defeat. Minus their star player, Dick Irwin, who was unable to play owing to an injury he received in the game at Detroit on Tuesday night, the Monarchs trotted on the ice with a very strong line-up, and even in practice they looked like a team that would not only beat Hamilton but beat them by a fair margin, and judging from the manner in which they started out, it looked as if the game was going to be a one-sided affair, but after Ebertherton got in harness things changed, and from the middle of the first half until the final whistle blew the Monarchs were forced to play their best hockey to stave off defeat. The dazzling combination played by the visitors was well worth the price of admission alone, and in the early stages this kind of work usually beats the local defence, and shots at Minnow were numerous, but all did not count, for the local soldier made many changes during the course of the first period, but a contract held the regular Scott of the visitors prevented him from making changes in the second half, but had he been able to do this the result would have been different.

In the early stages of the game the local fans, who turned out about six hundred strong, were treated to some fine hockey, for the Monarchs team displayed their best efforts in an attempt to run up a large score. Hay at right wing got away splendidly, and by attacking the defence he would state away on the boards, drawing both sides with him, and from a man to a man, who would be stationed in front of the nets with no one near him, Minnow shot the puck just as a man on the Monarchs team single handedly shot the puck into the net. The shooting was not very good, but was also a feature, for each player carrying the puck was followed by a man, and if he shot the puck he was glared forward, the man following up always took the rebound and shot. This kind of play, with five goals for the visitors, and in the second half, the Monarchs were forced to score four times to the visitors' twice, making the final count read

7 to 6. Hay and Marples were the best men for the visitors, while Alex Irwin on the defence also played grand hockey, and as much can be said for the other members of the team. Hamilton took the ice minus Jimmy Ebertherton, who was unable to arrive until ten minutes after the game started, and of this sort of broke up the Hamilton team, but as soon as he did get in action Hamilton scored their first counter on some fine combination played between Irwin and Jimmy Boyce the latter doing the shooting with no one but the goalie to beat. During this thirty minute period the Monarchs were easily the better team. They backed checked in a manner seldom equaled here, and their individual rushes to the Hamilton net and then a pass and a feature. Time after time the visitors beat the local defence by some grand combination, and their ability to beat a goal tender settled them five counters in the first half while Hamilton had to be content with two. In the second half things took a decided change, for Hamilton played the better hockey, and after the game had been in progress but a short time they scored three goals, bringing the count up to five-four, but the visitors got going, and Hay and Alex Irwin scored in quick succession. Then Hamilton came back strong again and scored twice more, making the count read seven to six, and with ten minutes to go and the locals playing the better game it looked as if they would at least tie up the count, but the good work of Farquhar in the nets from the visitors saved the day. This champion knocked them down with his head, hands, stick and all parts of his body, and scored so fast that a Hamilton man following up his shot could not get near the puck to shoot on the rebound. For the last ten minutes Hamilton pressed and pressed hard and appeared to be the better team. They but bombarded the Monarchs not with shots they looked like certain to score, but they were not. The situation at all times, and when the final whistle blew the Monarchs were the victors. They had many states on their line-up as add-on notices stated. Hay they have a wing man whose work of last night never was and never will be. During the Hamilton's stick handling ability was wonderful, and as a shooter he is in a class by himself. He shot the puck into the net and the majority of his shots were dead on and just high enough to pass over the defence line. Hay was a star, and he was a star. Hamilton—Minnow, Parker, Reiss, Ebertherton, and Scott. Winnipeg—Farquhar, D. Irwin, Laughton, Marples, McPhail, C. Hay, and Scott. Officials—Taylor, Hamilton and Scott, Winnipeg.

Jess Willard illustrating his favorite punch—a straight right to the jaw—with his sparring partner, Monahan.

6 to 1. In the last period the teams were more evenly matched and each managed to gain a point, making the final score 7 to 2. Tuckett, Macmillan, Saunders, Gordon and Dowling scored the goals for Hamilton. Highfield, Seniors-God, Fleming, right defence, Dowling; left defence, Saunders; centre, Tuckett; right wing, Gordon; left wing, Dryden; rover, Macmillan. Walter "Liz" Marriott to Be An Officer in the Tiger Battalion

Walter (Liz) Marriott, one of the best outside wing players known in Canada, and one of the most successful Rugby football generals, has determined to leave his home in the city and do the job, and will shortly join the strength of the 20th Battalion as lieutenant. His former experience in the training of football players should assist him greatly in his military career. He also has had considerable experience in the local militia serving over seven years in the training and was a non-commissioned officer. This training will prove most valuable and there is no doubt but that he will be just as popular with his men as he was on the gridiron.

There is no one who can be more proud of his athletic career than Lieut. Walter Marriott, and it is hoped that he will play just as much glory in his new occupation as a leader of men in the greatest of all games. He entered playing football with the Y. M. C. A., but first became prominent in Rugby circles when he joined the Tigers in 1909, with which team he remained for four years. The next year he was a member of the West End Pleasure Club team, but returned to the Tiger fold in 1914, and assisted in winning the Ontario championship of that year, and in 1908 and 1909. He remained with the Bengals until 1910, when he retired from the game as an active player. In 1910 he managed the Alberta, and led them to victory in the O. R. F. U., and lost out in the final with the Argos.

The following year the Alberta were successful in winning the Dominion

Rough Weather Does Not Prevent Willard or Moran From Training

Champion and Challenger Lid Strenuous Work Yesterday Despite Bad Weather Conditions—Other Fight Gossip.

(By Times Special Wire.) New York, March 10.—Rough weather with snow and stiff cold winds did not keep Jess Willard and Frank Moran from taking their early runs to-day.

Willard is well satisfied with the progress he is making in reducing weight and believes that to-morrow he will get below 260 pounds. Jess is very cool in all of his gymnasium work and particularly careful when he has the gloves on with his sparring partners. All three of these, by the way, show signs of hard usage, although Willard never cuts loose with a full blow, but his powerful weight at close quarters has its effect on the trio of fighters who let Jess feel the full strength of any blows they can land on him.

Moran's workouts in training are more lively as he mixes matters in his sparring partners. He is looking forward to an additional opponent for the remainder of the time. Big Dan Daly, of Philadelphia, is expected at the Westchester camp some time to-day and trainer Lewis says that his presence will enable Moran to work his over-sized bawls effectively.

Berlin Played Best Game But Could Not Beat Aura Lee Team

Union Jacks Pressed Hard But Good Work of Champions' Goal-Keeper Saved the Day—Canadiens Win N. H. A. Championship.

Toronto, March 16.—Aura Lee, who might be termed doubtful champions of the junior O. H. A., for although they landed the honors from Berlin Union Jacks, yet on the showing of the two teams last night at the Arena the visitors looked and acted like a better team. The Jacks simply bombarded the locals' goal all night, but the brilliant play of the Aura Lee, who were only able to play a game with the northerners, the score being 2 to 0, or 4 to 0 on the round.

It was well that Aura Lee secured a two-goal lead in Berlin, as last night they performed like a team not entitled to be called champions. They lacked aggressiveness, speed, and for not all about backchecking, while their defence invariably allowed the visitors to get right in close before shooting.

Two men made all the difference, namely, with the Aura Lee, the centre for Aura Lee, had been in bed for three days, and went on the ice very much weakened, and in place of being the best man was one of the weakest. He played his worst game in two years, so therefore, Aura Lee were weak at centre, while it was just the reverse for the visitors. The difference between the two teams left practically the centre ice open during the evening, and the visitors were swinging down on the open space repeatedly.

As the play, Berlin should have scored enough goals to win the round easily, but Wilkinson played a phenomenal game as goal. He was as a cucumber, and the hardest kinds of shots he made look easy. His defence gave him very little protection, as they were bunched around the net, and he was able to keep the puck in his hands, and he was a wonder that during the many scrimmages the visitors had in front of the net they didn't score more.

The Jacks started out the first period by bombarding Aura Lee, and they were the defensive for practically the whole game. Neither team showed the defensive for practically the whole game. Neither team showed the defensive for practically the whole game. Neither team showed the defensive for practically the whole game.

Tiger Battalion to Hold Big Rally at the Savoy To-night

The big rally to be held by the 20th Battalion at the Savoy Theatre this evening, after the regular show, will, in all probability, surpass all others, for those looking after the programme of entertainment have, in the past, made the Savoy Theatre the scene of the first-class singing, there will be two most boxing bouts and one wrestling match that will be interesting from start to finish. Jack Simpson, the crack lightweight with the 86th Machine Gun Battalion, and the man who has issued a challenge to Pete Scott, will be seen in action to-night when he tackles the Collyer College member of the Overseas contingent who handles the gloves fairly well. Simpson has not been taken seriously by Hamiltonians, but his ambition to-night is to prove that he is fast enough to meet Scott, and in all probability, he will issue a challenge to the man who has been the champion of the Overseas contingent.

There will be a wrestling match between "Banty" Laing and "Chick" Sheridan, two lightweight wrestlers who need little introduction to Hamiltonians. Both men have been practicing hard for a long time, and as great rivalry exists between them, a good match can be expected. McCracken, the soldier-brother, has been training hard since he was in the army, and as this period it is more than likely that the two men will be brought together.

WHEAT ADVANCE IS NOT STABLE

Liverpool Price Drops as Chicago Price Advances.

Stock Market Feeling is for an Improvement.

(Supplied by Tomenson, Forwood & Co., Merchants Bank Building.)

Chicago, March 16.—(By Times Special Wire.)

Wheat prices were up 1/4-1/2 in the last three days, and cash loss 1/2-3/4 cents. Bulls say the short interest has been larger than expected, which is shown by the advance, despite the "star" news from abroad, and resulting by seaboard cargoes. Export business has fallen off, which makes some traders go slow on the buying side. At the same time, with increasing complaints regarding the winter wheat crop, it is a chance to handle the market easily. It is said that large buyers on the seaboard are the best buyers of wheat, and they are buying at 1/2-3/4 cents. Local Club Failed to Send Representative to Canuck League Meeting

Yesterday's Meeting Poorly Attended and It Was Postponed For Another Week—St. Thomas and Ottawa Out—Effort Will Be Made to Interest Michigan State Clubs.

There are but four clubs in the Canadian League today. Hamilton, Brantford and Oshawa. St. Thomas, the club that lost money last season, despite the fact that they sold Meritt-Kopp for $10,000, has dropped out, and Ottawa will be given a year's leave in order to allow the other clubs to go ahead without the expense of taking the trips down east. It was a poor meeting indeed that was held at Toronto yesterday, and judging from the poor attendance one would never think that there was such an organization as the Canadian League, as the only club represented was London, and Joe Keenan, who will, in all probability be the London franchise, was there looking after his own interests. Hamilton was not represented. Tom Nelson, of Brantford, failed to put in an appearance, and Guelph phoned in the last minute to President Fitzgerald asking him to get "Knotty" Lee to look after their interests. Of course, with only one representative and the president, in addition to a few newspaper men present, the meeting lasted but a few minutes. It being decided upon to meet again in London one week from Sunday to take definite action, and in the meantime an effort will be made to get two or three clubs from the State of Michigan with a view to amalgamation, and if this scheme fails it is more than likely that the Toronto and Brantford franchises, which at the present time are lying idle, will be transferred to two American cities not far from the border.

THE APPLE DUTY CRITICISED BY THE LIBERALS

Forcing Northwest Farmers to Reimburse British Columbia.

MR. MICHAEL CLARK Makes Strong Protest—Sir Thomas White

Ottawa, March 15.—Canada's Prairie Province are suspicious of Sir Thomas White's new customs taxation on apples. They suspect what Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, characterized as "a well-meaning but unwise" move.

Their Parliamentary representatives jumped vigorously upon the Finance Minister's admission that the tax was imposed not to secure revenue but to protect British Columbia apples from the competition of the United States. It was not even "national policy," it was the worst kind of sectional policy, while Mr. W. E. Knowles, Moose Jaw, demanded that if the "double duty" was to be put on apples, it should be of certain sections it should be done by general bonus. The prairie, as the chief consumers of apples in the west, figure that they will be again called upon to "pay the piper."

Sir Thomas White hinted something about patriotic sacrifice. Dr. Clark was suspicious of the "double duty" and "willingly" with the sacrifices of other people.

Toronto had a champion unopposed. Mr. J. A. B. Dufferin, who rose to rebuke the "insistent west." The city of Toronto, which has a large population of the three Prairie Provinces combined, yet it did not make one-quarter of the demands.

By the prairies upon Parliament. This statement was greeted by uproarious laughter.

"We," observed Mr. Best, "a little more unceremoniously, 'Toronto's population is nearly as large.' (Renaud laugh.)

Mr. Best thereupon tried another line of criticism. The prairie provinces, he argued, were costing the country $6 per minute, not including the indemnity of money paid by the "double duty" of Parliament. Having made this charge Mr. Best sat down.

"Another $15 per minute," commented Mr. J. G. Turfitt, and further laughter.

Parliament spent the day upon the resolutions of the Minister of Finance calling for increased tariff upon apples and other fruits. The prairie provinces were warmly debated and challenged, but finally passed the committee.

DR. CLARK CRITICISES APPLE DUTY.

On going into committee Sir Thomas White announced that he would first submit the resolutions dealing with the new duties upon apples and fruit.

Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, rejoiced as an "unrepentant free trader" to see the "double duty" main difference between the Minister of Finance and the Opposition financial committee was only a matter of degree of direct taxation to be employed. A year ago the Minister of Finance had announced that the customs tariff was the mainstay upon which the national policy must rest. This made the broken down "double duty" which the Minister proposed to place upon apples and other fruits, a "double duty" of the general evils of protection. Sir Thomas White had opposed free trade in the almost complete national sentiment. The prairies were urged to sacrifice to "help the nation" last year for the prairie provinces upon the prairies. Now they were asked to make another sacrifice for the apple growers of British Columbia. So able a financier as Sir Edmund Caird had declared that every apple grower who had a right to the prairie needed more than any other part of the Dominion. Why, then, their already "double duty" on apples, should an additional one be placed upon them? Sir Thomas White was a "double duty" of his heart, only instead of calling upon the farmers to make brick for straw he commanded the farmers of the prairies to pay high prices for apples without selling their wheat.

POLICY ESSENTIALLY SECTIONAL.

This was not a "national policy." It was an essentially sectional policy. The Minister must give up his apple-taxing policy or give up professing his national policy. The prairie provinces were urged to sacrifice to "help the nation" last year for the prairie provinces upon the prairies. Now they were asked to make another sacrifice for the apple growers of British Columbia. Sir Thomas White was a "double duty" of his heart, only instead of calling upon the farmers to make brick for straw he commanded the farmers of the prairies to pay high prices for apples without selling their wheat.

Dr. Clark believed that war was the greatest thing that had happened since the world began. He would cheer if he did not also believe that after the war would come the "double duty" of the prairie provinces. Would it not be an excellent and real national policy when Parliament finally put the "double duty" on apples to place and to leave as much of the tariff as possible with the an-

Sir Thomas White interrupted that the Liberal party had smashed a tariff, but they did not do so with the support of Liberalism.

So able a financier as Sir Edmund Caird had declared that every apple grower who had a right to the prairie needed more than any other part of the Dominion. Why, then, their already "double duty" on apples, should an additional one be placed upon them? Sir Thomas White was a "double duty" of his heart, only instead of calling upon the farmers to make brick for straw he commanded the farmers of the prairies to pay high prices for apples without selling their wheat.

Dr. Clark believed that war was the greatest thing that had happened since the world began. He would cheer if he did not also believe that after the war would come the "double duty" of the prairie provinces. Would it not be an excellent and real national policy when Parliament finally put the "double duty" on apples to place and to leave as much of the tariff as possible with the an-

West of the Meuse the bombardment perceptibly slackened during the course of the day on the Bethincourt front, where no infantry action was reported.

"On the right bank there has been considerable activity in the region of Vaux and Damblong. skirmishes with grenades have been fought by our adversary on the slopes east of Fort Vaux."

"In the Woivre villages at the foot of Mont St. Eloi the Germans were active. Our artillery was very active along the whole front, especially in the region of Bois de Warville, where an artillery company was dispersed, and in the neighborhood of Frenne-en-Woivre, where our fire exploded in a German battery."

Shoes of Quality

Owing to the great scarcity of leather, different kinds of shoddy and poor leather will be put into shoes. We caution that THIS STORE WILL NOT HANDLE A SHODDY SHOE. When a manufacturer must either advance his price, or take it, he will take it, and we will pay the advance and keep our shoes up to THEIR USUAL HIGH STANDARDS.

Yard, which is a perfect target for both small and large, and for the slower attack of an enemy's mine. Intense and necessary for the soldier's own safety in a trench. Durable for defensive purposes, the dead were being buried as far as possible.

"The tale of the enemy's loss is high. Our communication trench, which was raked from end to end by one of our guns, was not only destroyed, but the overwhelming in the amount of shells, was not spared. We firing at least 140 only offered slight resistance. The battle is beginning to decline, but is not yet over."

"Some tank into the morass," he says, "and had to be helped out. Shells falling into the crater sent up eruptions of mud. Only men at a high pitch of training could have stood the mud. The fighting is in a grain."

"No fighting has been so terrible and so condensed as at this crisis. The fighting is in a grain."

Mr. J. C. Clumie, who is a member of the Proprietor of the Hamilton Daily Times, writes:—"I have had a bad case of Herpes on my right leg below the knee. I tried all kinds of ointments and lotions, but to no avail. I was very much discouraged. Hearing of Dr. J. C. Clumie's Ointment, I tried it, and I feel as if I had found a cure. I am glad to say that it made a complete cure of my Herpes, and I feel as if I had found a cure of the old trouble for ever."
